HORSES FAIRLY GIVEN AWAY BY AUCTIONEER PETER C. KELLOGG.

Peter C. Kellogg's twelfth annual combination sale of trotting stock, which was begun at the American Institute Building yesterday, might appropriately be called a bargain sale, or a give-away sale, for the horses offered fetched ridiculously small prices, several for $50 apiece and one getting down as low as

THE WINGATES TOWED INTO PORT.

The British steamship Wingates, which broke her shaft and was tossed about for some time helplessly by the heavy seas off the east end of Long Island, reached this port safely yesterday morning in tow of the steamship Orinoco, from Bermuda, Captain Thompson reports that the Wingates left Alexan-Egypt, on February 11. On March 13, when sixty miles south-southeast of Montauk, the engines were stopped by the carrying away of the tall end of the crank shaft. Captain Thompson made all of the crank shaft. Captain Thompson made all possible sail and endeavored to run for Sandy Rock, but owing to heavy east-northeast gales and furious seas the wingates drifted to the southward.

On March 16, after a drift of nearly 300 miles ou of her course, when about ninety-five miles south-southeast of Sandy Hook, the Orinoco hove in sight. At 11 o'clock Sunday a steel hawser was passed aboard the disabled vessel from the Orinoce. Pilot aboard the disabled vessel from the Orinoce. First Henderson, from the pilot-boat Pet, went aboard the Wingates, and Pilot Germain took charge of the Orinoce and the Wingates was safely towed to port. The Orinoce is entitled to a good round sum for towing her in. All the incoming vessels bore evidence of the fury of the Atlantic. The Chatta-hoochee, of the Savannah Line, reached her pier only yesterday, although she was due on Saturday morning.

PREBETING OUT THE COUNTERPRITERS. The result of some hard work by United States Secret Service detectives has been apparent in a series of arrests recently made. Another prisoner was taken before Commissioner Shields yesterday. He is Grovanni Spinella, of No. 122 South Fifth-ave. Agent Brooks charges that Spinella is the maker of considerable amounts of counterfeit coin. The wife of Antonio Rose, an Italian, who is now in custody on charges of counterfeiting, was arrested on Sunday on charges or commerciang, was arrested on sunday night. Counterfeit silver coin, mostly dollars and dimes, to the amount of $128, were found in her pos-session. She told the Secret Service officers that she had obtained the coin from Spinella, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. The woman was allowed to go on her own recognizance as she will be used as a witness for the State.

MRS. PREUND AND THE HOWARDS A-FISHING. The suit of Mrs. Mackey against the Electric Sugar Refining Company was regarded at the District At-torney's office as a movement on behalf of Mrs. Freund and the other defendants in the criminal action. As-sistant District-Attorney Davis, who has charge of the prosecution, said that the suit was probably an endeavor on the part of the defendants to find out exactly how much evidence was contained in the books of the company against Mrs. Fround and the Howards. A motion will soon be made before Recorder Smyth to set an early day for the trial of the charges against the arrested persons.

CONTRACTS FOR CITY PRINTING AWARDED. The Board of City Record yesterday awarded the contracts for the printing and etationery of the Health Department to Martin S. Brown, the lowest bidder. Messrs. Baker and Prait, the city's printing experts, Means. Baker and Fract, the city's printing experies, and yesterday that Mr. Brown's bids were considerably below the actual cost of work and material. "If he keeps up this sort of bidding throughout the series of contracts to be given out," they observed, "he will do $50,000 worth of the city's printing for nothing."

The tendency of wheat was downward. Spot lots were 3-421 1-4 cent lower but no export demand was stimulated. The speculation was more active, over 10,000,000 bushels being traded in, but liquidation depressed prices from beginning to end. There was o particular occurrence to start the decline but the rumors of financial trouble in Paris encouraged the bearish feeling in the afternoon. The general elebearish feeling in the afternoon. The general elements of depression were the same as they have been—good weather, that promises well for crop prospects, the tame condition of foreign markets and the indifference of exporters. After the close May wheat sold at 92 5-8209 cents, ending unchanged from the official close at 92 3-4 cents. The market closed weak at the regular hour down 121 1-4 cent for March 21 91, April at 91 5-8, May at 92 3-4 and June at 93 1-2 cents and 1-223-4 cent for July at 92, August at 90 3-8 and December at 93 1-4 cents. The visible supply statement showed a decrease of 507,656 bushels, but it was what conservative dealers looked for 2nd had no speculative effect on prices. Corn. however, decreased 264,187 bushels, an unexpected showing that helped to steady that cereal againgt the influence of sympathetic response to wheat's weshness. Corn on the spot was unchanged with nearly 100,000 bushels purchased by shippers. The options were dull and closed off 1-421-8 cent at 42 5-8 for March, 42 7-8 for April, and 43 1-4 for May, June being unchanged at 43 3-8 cents. Oats were quiet and steady with the options unchanged at 30 1-2 for April and 30 3-8 cents for May and June. There were sales of 250 tierces of land for export but the speculation was dull and a shade easier. Last quotations were: March, April and May, 87 20; June, 87 28.

The receipts of grain and flour reported yesterday ments of depression were the same as they have standard "A" 750

27.28. The receipts of grain and flour reported yesternlay at New-York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston were ns follows: Wheat, 7.560 bushels; corn, 230,978 bushels; oats, 28,744 bushels; total grain, 207,580 bushels; flour, 20,520 packages. At Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Louis the arrivals were. Wheat, 44,120 bushels; corn, 262,916 bushels; oats, 160,477 bushels; total grain, 467,522 bushels; flour, 17,288 bagrels.

THE TRADE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, March 18 (Special) .- A revival of the finantal distress at Paris made it impossible to bull wheat and even a difficult matter to hold it. Prices from and even a difficult matter to hold it. Prices from the outset tended down. A story of the day's market is simply a recital of the effects of the bull crowd to check this down-bull inclination. The opening was unexpectedly strong at 97.3-4 for May, 1-2 cent over Saturday's close. The pit was without orders. The visible supply statement showed a decrease of 587,000 bushels, a larger decrease than was expected, but for all that the opening prices were not made again during the day. From 97.3-4 May wheat sold as low as 95.7-8. The close was at 96.1-2. There was buying by Norton and Worthington, by Lester & Co., and by some other concerns near the bottom, which was credited to Fairbank. There were the same bear influences which have of late prevailed. The weather was mild everywhere, and the Southwest winter-wheat belt had fine rains. The arrivals of wheat here, thirty-one cars, were small; so were the estimates for Tuesday, thirty-six cars. The receipts of corn were belt had fine rains. The arrivals of wheat here, thirty-one cars, were small; so were the estimates for Tuesday, thirty-six cars. The receipts of corn were 476 cars; the estimates for Tuesday, 770 cars. The big movement was a bear influence. It was partly offset by an unexpected decrease, 305,000 bushels in the visible supply. The result of these conflicting influences was a dull market and an exceedingly narrow range. May opened at 35 1-2:255 5-8, and closed at 35 3-8:35 1-2. Oats kept within a range of 1-4 cent. Provisions sympathetically were weak. On the curb May wheat sold at 96 5-8,

THE PETROLEUM MARKET. NEWS FROM THE FIELD AND RANGE OF PRICES.

The new week opens in the petroleum market as the old one closed, namely, with a dull and indifferent speculation. Prices fluctuated within the limit of 1 cent, and the trading was light and retail in character. The Knox "gusher" in the Washington country, which was the signal for last Wednesday's break in values, was the signal for last Wednesday's break in values, is down to thirty barrels an hour, but a well of fair size has been opened in the Turkeyfoot, West Yirstee has been reached. The Washington and other Southwestern developments will be watched for some time with more or less interest by oil producers. Were an exitive speculation in progress the general preponderactive such local developments as have influenced crude oil recently. But where all active support is withdrawn from view—where refiner and producer alike appear to be indifferent to the temporary fluctuations of values—the possible influence of local field news attracted an attention that cannot be ignored.
